Message from Father Brooks: Today is the first Sunday of Luke in our Church lectionary. We have completed the cycle of Matthew. Mark, Matthew, and Luke together make the "synoptic" gospels because they used the same sources and many of the same stories told from different perspectives. It is helpful to read Sunday's gospel prior to the liturgy as part of our preparation for communion. We should make reading the Scripture a part of our Orthodox lives. Peace to all.

Sunday School: We had a wonderful 1st day of Sunday school on Sept 14th. Many children registered and participated in the procession for the Elevation of the Cross. All in all a wonderful day and a great start for what will be an exceptional year! If you have any questions contact Steve Coraluzzi 856-562-9672 or email sundayschooldirector@stjohnsphila.org

Reminder: you can still register for and participate in Sunday school. We welcome all children and encourage the parents to bring their kids on Sunday. Nursery school through 7th grade meet downstairs and grades 8 – 12 meet in the church office after the children receive communion. Please bring your children to church!!

Gregory E. Costa Golf Classic: We are happy to report the Golf Classic was a success. We had 26 golfers and over 70 people attend the dinner. Many people won prizes in our Albanian Auction and the 50/50 was won by John Ghicondey. Thank you to everyone who attended the dinner, sponsored a hole in our commemorative booklet, donated items for the Albanian Auction and supported us through their prayers. The photos of the golfers and those taken at the dinner are posted on our website. Take a look!

Monthly giving for September: Ream of white paper. Thank you to those who have already donated paper.
